

EFFECTIVE WAY OF IMPROVING ENGLISH LANGUAGE IN EDUCATIONAL ARENA

ADITYA GORE^{1*}, VAIBHAV MEHTA², BHARAT KUMAR P³, GOVARDHAN REDDY I.⁴
^{1,2,3,4}M.Tech, Vellore Institute of technology, Chennai campus.

ABSTRACT

Though English is a foreign linguistic communication in India its importance is much more than any other languages spoken in India. It's because it's used in Educational field, it's a path of communicating in areas like business and professional. The impact of English language is high in educational field and so as for students. Though the English language taught from elementary class in schools there is a need of English communication class at graduation level because lack of English knowledge. The English language has great impact on our educational system and therefore it's necessary to understand what problems student faces in their educational background and to ascertain the effective ways of improving it.

This article includes a collecting some problem regarding English communication and writing and delivering its cause and effects by managing a study on graduation and post-graduation students.

Keywords: Arena; English language; Questionnaire; Merely; Pie chart.

©KY PUBLICATIONS

1. INTRODUCTION

In order to know the ways to improve the English language in the educational field, it is very important to detect where exactly problem lies in the entire process of learning the language. For this, it was very mandatory to get the real time data and responses of the people facing the problems in learning the language. Thus, we prepared a questionnaire that would expose the need to revise the learning techniques. We also included some people as mere third person observers and asked them the same questions. Post this process, we can decide what changes are to be made in a more rigid format to improve the learning of the language in the educational field.

As the current status, English language is being taught graphically in the early years of education but later it becomes merely theoretical. As a part of the experiment we can use the graphical teaching of the language to enhance the memory of the students pertaining to English. Such a method can be implemented by the use of flash cards and other visual methods which results in photographic memory of the matter to be learnt.

2. Methodology

To recognize the problems faced by scholars in English there is a need for proper research for problems they faced while learning English. This article includes some of the troubles faced by the pupils and their answers. These responses are gathered up by performing a study on students pursuing graduation and post graduation. The problems are defined and their solutions are presented in the contour of a pie chart for proper understanding of student's percentage choosing different options. This survey includes ten basics problems faced by students in English communication and writing and their probable reasons by students. A survey performed on 50 students at one campus.

Q.1 Why some children in schools from Urban/Rural areas are not communicating in English?

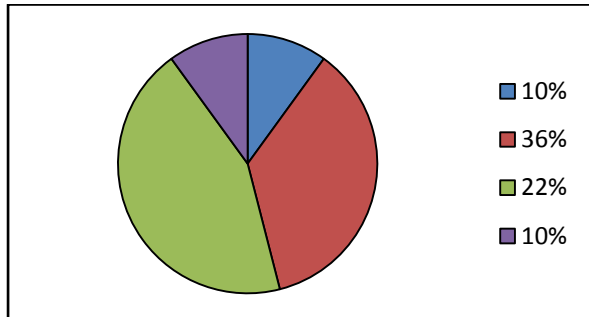

Fig.1

Figure 1 state that 10% students state that they are not interested and also not well taught by teacher, 22% students says that it's because they use their regional language while communicating, but the majority of students 36% agreed that their communication skill is not good because of lack of practice.

Q.2 Why students are not good at writing English?

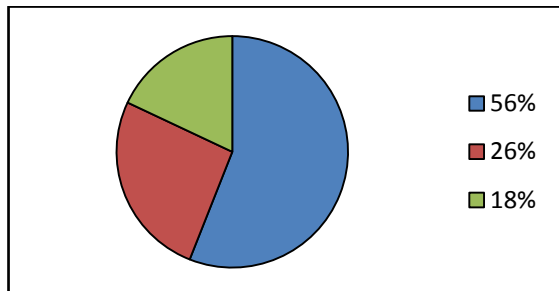

Fig. 2

Figure 2 states that 56% students face grammar problems while writing, 26% do not prefer to write in English and 18% state that their basic knowledge in English is not good enough from the school stage.

Q.3 Did you ever tried to write an article or essay in the English language?

Q.4 If Yes, what is the level of difficulty you feel? And Q.5 If No what is the reason for it?

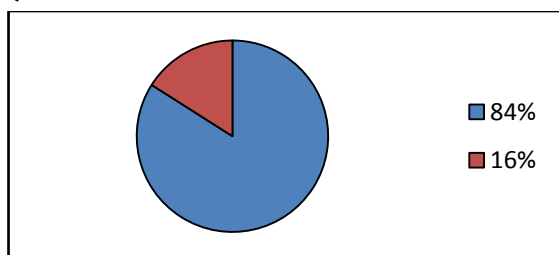

Fig. 3

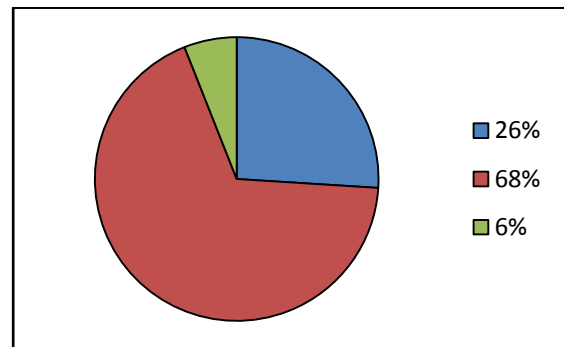

Fig. 4

From figure 3 and figure 4 we can say that 84% students agreed that they tried and 68% says that the difficulty level was moderate, 26% feels it was less difficult and 6% says that it was very difficult. But 16% students didn't try to write an essay or an article because they faced difficulties in grammar.

Q.6 After facing an interview what modifications are required to communicate?

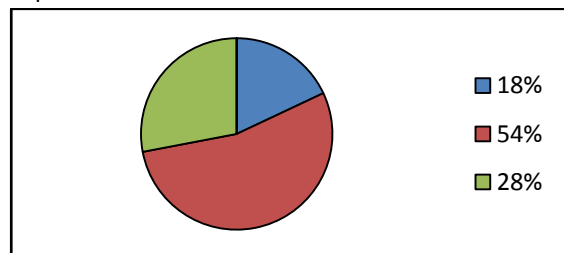

Fig. 5

Here fig. 5 states that 18% of people have given this response i.e., 18% people are confident that they are good in communication. 54% people are satisfactory and they need to improve more their communication for the better one. And 28% indicates that they need to improve more for communicating well. That means most of the people are moderate enough to communicate in English during interviews. Some have to improve more to get it better.

Q.7 In which language you like to attend a job interview?

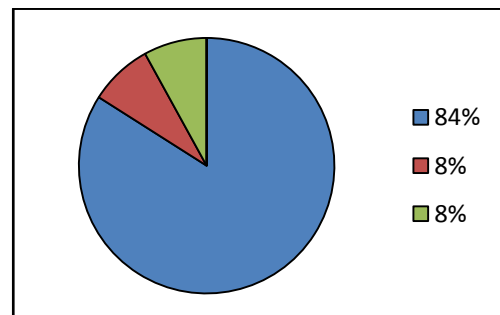

Fig. 6

From fig 6 we can say that 84% people prefer to attend an interview in English language only, but 8% people prefer to attend in Hindi and Regional language.

Q. 8 What will you do for improving your English communication?

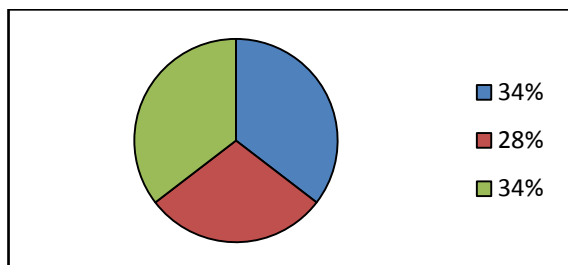

Fig. 7

Here fig. 7 shows that 34% people like to read novels and newspapers also communicate in English for improving their communication skills. 28% like to watch news channels and movies for improvement in English. Some people consider all 3 options and some choose 2 options.

Q. 9 Do you think education in English medium really helps students at UG and PG level?

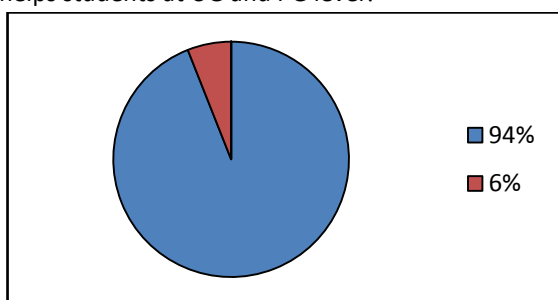

Fig. 8

From fig. 8 we can conclude that most of the people accept to study in English medium for the UG and PG level for improving their communication skills.

Q. 10 Which language do you prefer to your education?

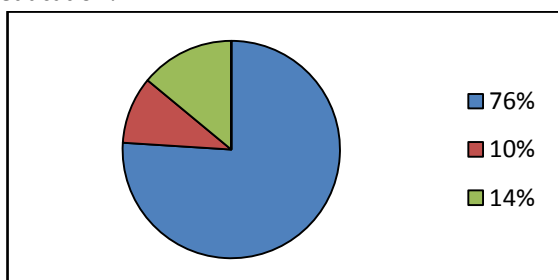

Fig. 9

Fig. 9 shows that 76% of the people like to have their education in English medium for the schooling. 10% prefers to have in Hindi medium and 14% prefers the regional language. The people like to have their schooling in regional language is more than Hindi medium people.

3. Results and Conclusion

From the survey we conclude that the people are facing more problems while communicating and writing because of the reasons like lack of basic grammar, regional language domination and lack of communication practice in English language. For reducing all these difficulties and other problems people like practice exercises like: Practice more for communicating well, reading novels and newspapers, watching English news channels and movies and communicating with others in English will increase the level of communication.

4. REFERENCES

Davies, P. (2008). ELT in Mexican higher education should be mainly ESP. MEXTESOL Journal 32/1, 79-92.

Davies, P. (2004). English 4 all? Plenary presentation at 31st National MEXTESOL Convention, Morelia, October 2004.

Ellis, G., Brewster, J. & Girard, D. (1992). The primary English teacher's guide. London: Penguin.

Ellis, R. (1999). The Study of Second Language Acquisition. Shanghai: Shanghai Foreign Language Education Press.

Gnutzmann, C. (ed.). 1999. Teaching and Learning English as a Global Language. Tubingen: Stauffenburg.

Frankfurt/Main: Lang, Melchers, G. and P. Shaw. 2003. World Englishes. London: Arnold.

Sy-Ying Lee Joining the 'literacy club': when reading meets blogging ELT J (2015) 69 (4): 373-382 doi:10.1093/elt/ccv030.

Stefan Rathert and Zühal Okan Writing for publication as a tool in teacher development ELT J (2015) 69 (4): 363-372 doi:10.1093/elt/ccv029.

Beatty, K. (2003). Teaching and Researching Computer-Assisted Language Learning (Applied Linguistics in (Action)), New York: Pearson ESL.